

April 22 and 23

on ZOOM

2022 LATINA/X FEMINISMS ROUNDTABLE

Philosophy Department
Latina/Latino Studies

Friday April 22 EST

- To register for any/all of the talks by Invited Speakers go to: bit.ly/3Oeak4N

All presenters and guests need to register for talks by Invited Speakers

- Presenters and guests will be sent a ZOOM LINK for all other scheduled presentations
- For more information contact Mariana Ortega at muo3@psu.edu

10:00-10:15 Welcome

10:20-11:00 Gabriela Veronelli, Duke University

"Language is inseparable from race for Latinas/x"

11:10-11:50 Miguel Gualdrón Ramírez, University of North Texas

"Un canto en su lengua": shifts of the enslaved woman's voice as a mechanism of rebellion in South America"

12:00-12:40 everet e. smith, Emory University

"Debt, Decolonization, and Solidarity: The Body, the Flesh, and the Promise of a Non-Abstract Universal"

12:40-2:00 LUNCH BREAK

2:00-3:15 Public Presentation--Invited Speaker:

Lourdes Torres, DePaul University

"Queer Latina/o/x Organizing"

3:30-4:10 Jacqueline García Suárez, The Pennsylvania State University

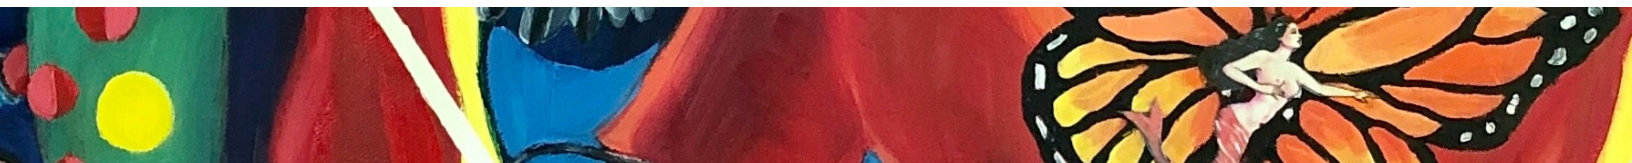

"Undoing Violence or the Decolonization of Gaze in Otero Alcántara's Drawings"

4:20-5:00 Xalli Zúñiga, The Pennsylvania State University

"Drawing Fungal Care from Within Latina/x Feminisms: Arts-based Shifts from Agonism to Loving-Collaboration"

5:10-5:50 Alan F. Palacios, Rutgers University

"Expansiones: selfhood negotiations in active engagement with humans and nonhumans"

- 10:00-10:40 Catalina Hernández-Cabal, University of Illinois at Champaign-Urbana
"To Faithfully Witness in-Movement"
- 10:50-11:30 Amanda Pinto, University of North Carolina at Charlotte
"Theorizing Resistance in a Pole Dancing Studio with the works of María Lugones and Mariana Ortega"
- 11:45-1:00 Public Presentation--Invited Speaker
Talia Mae Bettcher, California State University, Los Angeles
"Trans Philosophy and the Philosophy of María Lugones"
- 1:00-2:30 LUNCH
- 2:30-3:10 Sarah Carey, The Pennsylvania State University
"Loving Translation and Playful-Painful Transformation: Learning by Heart as a Resistant Practice"
- 3:20-4:00 Saraliza Anzaldúa, University of California, Los Angeles
"Monism and Trauma"
- 4:10-4:50 Cynthia Marrero-Ramos, The Pennsylvania State University
"Espacios de Arrebató: On the Geography of Selves and Liminal Dwelling"
- 5:00-6:15 Public Presentation--Invited Speaker
Andrea J. Pitts, University of North Carolina at Charlotte
"Seeing with the Heart: Beth Brant, Gloria Anzaldúa, and Indigenous-Chicana Feminist Friendships"
- 6:15-7:00 Group Conversation/Final Reflections--Bring beverages/snacks

SpecialThanks to the Philosophy Department and Latina/o Studies for their support of the Latina/x Feminisms Roundtable.

PennState
College of the Liberal Arts

